Americans Deny Nine Power Treaty Should Be Revised

Japan Claims China Unable to Maintain Order Under Rules

BORAH ASKS OPINION

Stimson Reports Observance of Treaties Would Have Avoided Trouble

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—America stood firmly Wednesday behind its open door policy in China and disputed Japan's claim that the nine power treaty should be revised, because China was not able to maintain order. In an open letter to Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Secretary Stimson said that observance of these treaties would have avoided the present Sino-Japanese situation and that no evidence had come to this government that a compliance with them would have interfered with the protection of all legitimate foreign rights in China.

The secretary of state in a several thousand word communication filled with a detailed background, pronounced America's policy in the Far East difficulties as one squarely behind the open door policy and the nine power treaty, under which that policy was subscribed to by the principal powers.

Search Conducted For Forest O'Brine

Air Man, Reported Kidnaped, Once Lived in Texarkana

ST. LOUIS.—(AP)—Mrs. Elsie O'Brine, wife of Forrest O'Brine, holder of the unofficial endurance flight record, called police to her hotel Tuesday and told them her husband had been kidnaped by a woman, who dragged him into an automobile when he met her by appointment in front of the hotel. A city detective later talked to Mrs. O'Brine and quoted her as saying her husband merely departed early Tuesday in an automobile with a woman. The detective said Mrs. O'Brine explained she "became excited" and called police. "It was just a mis take," Mrs. O'Brine said. She said she does not know where O'Brine is. In her story to police earlier in the day Mrs. O'Brine said her husband received a telephone call from a woman who insisted on seeing him. She related she accompanied her husband to the street to meet the woman. An automobile drove up to the curb, the woman throwing the door open.

As O'Brine stepped forward to address the woman, Mrs. O'Brine told police, he was seized by the coat collar and drawn into the car. She said she grabbed her husband's coat, but was thrown to the sidewalk as the automobile was driven rapidly away. Mrs. O'Brine in it, the filer's wife with O'Brine in it, the filer's wife.

Financial Reverses Blamed For Suicide

No Inquest Held in Case of W. A. Martin of Fort Smith

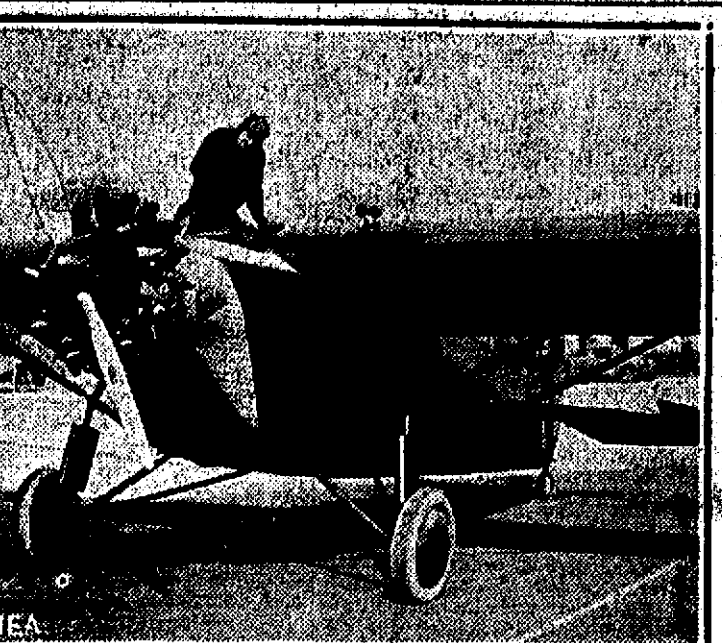

FORT SMITH.—W. A. Martin, aged 37, killed himself Tuesday afternoon by firing two bullets through his brain. His body was found on a vacant lot near his home on Irving street. Prosecuting Attorney Chester Holland accompanied officers, who investigated, and said there would be no inquest.

Mrs. W. L. Pence, neighbor, found the body.

Financial reverses and three deaths in his family within the past year are said to have caused his suicide. When told of his brother's act, Tom Martin, of Fort Smith said he had "been expecting this a long time."

Besides the brother, Mr. Martin is survived by two sons, Charles and Will Martin, both of St. Louis, and a daughter of Fort Smith.

Comes to Grief Early in Attempt At a New Distance Flying Record

Attempt at Long Air Trip Failure

Browne Plane Is Forced Down at Boston on 5,400-Mile Flight

BOSTON.—(AP)—An attempt by Nate C. Browne, former army pilot, and Edward Muldowney of Scranton, Pa., his regular financial backer, to set a new transatlantic flight record by making a non-stop hop from Old Orchard Beach, Me., to Buenos Aires ended here Tuesday with a forced landing. After two hours with a forced landing, the Lone Star, a biplane, landed on the beach at Old Orchard and headed south, the ship came down at the Boston airport, according to a landing gear.

Neither Browne, who was at the controls, nor Muldowney who rode behind him, was injured and, although visibly disappointed, Browne announced they would try again as soon as repairs could be made.

Twenty minutes after passing Boston and while at sea several miles from the shores of Cape Cod, Browne noticed that something had gone wrong with one of his cylinders. The plane, burdened with more than 1,000 gallons of fuel, lost altitude rapidly until the craft was within a few feet of the waves.

"It was a close call," Browne said. "I had to decide quickly what to do. It was clear we couldn't continue so we dumped between 600 and 700 gallons of gasoline overboard and headed back to Boston."

To have been successful in their flight the men would have to have broken the record set last summer by Russell Boardman of Brookline and John Polando of Lynn who flew from Boston to Istanbul, a distance of slightly over 5,000 miles. The direct line distance from Old Orchard Beach to Buenos Aires is 5,400 miles.

W. S. Atkins Beats Pat Casey in Race For City Attorney

Halliburton, Witt, Anderson and Keith Elected Aldermen

STEPHENSON LOSES

Incumbent From Ward Two Defeated in Close Two-Man Race

New City Lineup
Hope's government, for the municipal year beginning in April, as determined by Tuesday's Democratic primary, equivalent to election, will be as follows:
Mayor, John Vesey; treasurer, W. Harper; city clerk, Fred Webb; municipal judge, U. A. Gentry; city attorney, W. S. Atkins; aldermen, Ward One R. L. (Bob) Gentry and Roy Anderson; Ward Two Luther Garner and L. A. Keith; Ward Three, W. A. Lewis and Theo. P. Witt; Ward Four, Charles E. Taylor and Ira Halliburton.

W. S. Atkins defeated G. Pat Casey for city attorney, 445 votes to 340, in a Democratic city primary Tuesday which saw only one out of four incumbents fail of re-election.

Halliburton and Theo. P. Witt, aldermanic running mates of Mr. Atkins, also came through. Mr. Halliburton topped all candidates, with 500 votes out of the total of 788 cast Tuesday.

In Ward Two, Roy Stephenson, seeking re-election, went down before L. A. Keith, jeweler, making his first bow in politics, by a margin of 100 votes, 444 to 344.

In Ward One, where four candidates sought the aldermanic post vacated by Dr. Don Smith, Roy Anderson won by a landslide, with a total of 500 votes, 444 to 344.

All of the two-man races were fought on partial returns from the four wards, but the complete unofficial count showed majorities in each instance of approximately 100 votes. Atkins polled 445 against 340 for Casey, a margin of 105. There was an even 100 votes difference in Keith's defeat of Stephenson, in Ward Two. Witt won over S. F. Huntley in Ward Three by 447 to 338, a margin of 109.

Fred Webb, unopposed for re-election, as city clerk, polled the maximum votes of the election, 788.

Voting for aldermen was city-wide, with one to be chosen from each of the four wards.

In the attorney's race, Atkins carried three of the four wards, Casey heading him off 60 to 56 in the latter's home precinct, Ward Four. However, the struggle was exceedingly close in Ward One, largest in the city, where the count was 145 for Atkins to 140 for Casey.

Halliburton, Anderson and Keith carried every ward in their aldermanic triumphs. Witt, successful candidate for the post in Ward Three, swept three precincts but dropped a close decision to Huntley in Ward Two, where the count stood Huntley 131, Witt 129.

New York Sheriff Taken From Office

Gov. Roosevelt Removes County Officer After Investigation

ALBANY, N. Y.—(AP)—Gov. Roosevelt Wednesday removed from office Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, district leader of Tammany Hall's keystone unit because he was dissatisfied with Farley's explanation of income deposits of $390,000 in a safety deposit box while the salary of the office was only $15,000 annually.

The charges were developed and brought before the governor by Samuel Seabury, counsel to the legislative committee investigating the city's administration.

Strawberry Crop Is Planned Here

75 of 150 Acres Already Pledged, Homer Pigg Announces

Enough strawberry plants for 150 acres of this truck crop may be placed with Hempstead county farmers, according to plans which are now being completed.

If this much acreage is secured, the farmers may secure the plants with a crop mortgage. W. Homer Pigg and the agricultural department of the Missouri Pacific railway have made arrangements for this financing.

Already about 75 acres have been pledged. Pigg said that enough additional farmers may be interested in the plan to provide the minimum acreage.

A final meeting will be held at the city hall Saturday, February 27, at 1:30 p. m. for the purpose of pledging the remaining 75 acres, and for answering any questions in regard to this movement.

Nashville farmers have already pledged 130 acres or more, under the leadership of Bert Johnson, orchardist and truck crop manager. With both counties growing large quantities of strawberries it is expected that additional buyers can be attracted to this section.

It has been pointed out that this year is especially desirable for the planting of this crop. Plants are unusually low now; and many of the plants set out by growers in former years, were killed in the drought of 1930.

Hope and Nashville are strategically located for the marketing of this product, since local berries reach the market just after the South Louisiana crop has been shipped, and just before the North Arkansas berries are ready for market.

Rooming House Is Destroyed By Fire

Three Have Close Call as Structure Burns at Arkadelphia

ARKADELPHIA.—The 22-room frame hotel building of the W. P. Owens estate, operated by Zach Connell, burned Tuesday morning, with all the furniture. Loss was estimated at $6,000. The house was insured for $4,000. There was no insurance on the furniture.

Three men rooming upstairs narrowly escaped with their lives. Two had to jump and another gained the front porch and slid down a post. A man named Atkins was burned severely on the neck and back. Another suffered a badly cut hand when he smashed a local berry against the wall. There were 12 persons in the house, including the family.

The proposals suggested that armed national forces of the various countries be fixed according to the extent of territory in each country, its population, the length and nature of its frontiers, its facilities for land, sea, and aerial communications, its degree of security against external aggression and its national resources.

Most of the day's session was given over to hearing the proposals of representatives of several South Central American countries.

Joe Floyd Issues Chamber Appeal

New Secretary-Manager Makes Statement to Membership

Joe R. Floyd, new secretary-manager of Hope Chamber of Commerce, issued his first public statement to the membership Wednesday.

"Why should Hope have a chamber of commerce? Doubtless this question has arisen in the minds of many of our citizens during the past few months, and considering the depressed condition of business of all kinds, it is quite natural that people would think along this line. As secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce I do not underestimate the difficulties to be met in working out a constructive program."

He was thoroughly convinced that we need an active chamber of commerce more than ever before.

"Most cities of this size, and even small towns, are carrying on their chamber of commerce work in some way. Some are merely existing and waiting for better times to renew activities while others are taking advantage of their opportunities and doing a real service for their communities."

"During the past few years the work of the Hope chamber of commerce, through its many activities, has given our city the reputation of being the best town in Arkansas with a population of less than ten thousand. This is not only the opinion of our own people but of the people elsewhere. You have heard this many times and possibly you think it unnecessary to repeat it, but the thing I want to emphasize is this: If our activities have been worth while in the past, we should afford to let us now."

"It is all a matter of co-operation to secure the maximum results, and the biggest problem I see now is to create a bigger sense of loyalty and confidence in the work. Every individual in Hope, as well as the mercantile and industrial firms, should be expected to share the responsibilities of any organization whose purpose is to make the community a better place in which to live."

Pat Cleburne Chapter U. D. C. Plants 50 Shrubs at Washington

Sponsored by the Pat Cleburne chapter of U. D. C., Mrs. Edgar Bryant, president and Mrs. J. A. Henry, chairman of the committee, more than a dozen people from Hope motored to Washington Tuesday afternoon bearing 50 shrubs. They met with people from Fulton and Washington on the grounds of the Civil War Memorial Capitol where for the first time in its existence more than one hundred years the grounds were landscaped and planted in shrubs, according to plans drawn by George Ware, manager of the Experiment station.

Approximately 65 shrubs were planted around the building with a background of Lombardy poplars and grouping of shrubs at each corner. A cherry tree was also planted, harmonizing with the George Washington bicentennial program.

Special thanks were due W. M. Hart, Washington Berry and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Carpenter, of Texarkana, and the many women of Hope and Washington for shrubs; the C. E. Royston chapter in Fulton which donated two handsome shrubs honoring Mrs. C. E. Royston who has been the president of the Fulton chapter for many years; and all the Washington people, especially Lee Holt and Mr. Dudley; and George Ware.

New Yorker, Harbored Old Grudge, Tried to Slay Former Friend

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Embodiment of a 30-year-old grudge flared at about 9:30 a. m. Tuesday at Clifford M. Crapo, 53, of Albany, N. Y., fired three shots into the back of the head of a man who was assisting Ernest Bamberger, president of the Bamberger Investment and Exploration Company, to make a mining map of Utah. Mr. Bamberger was uninjured but one of the men placed the arm of Miss Alice Crapo, employee of the Salt Lake Tribune, near which office the shooting took place. Main street shopped were thrown into a panic as a crowd drew a 32-caliber revolver and opened fire—Mr. Bamberger fled through the newspaper offices after a brief struggle with Crapo.

The grudge is said to have grown out of losses suffered by Crapo in mining stock ventures said to have been sponsored by Mr. Bamberger.

The men became friends 30 years ago, when Crapo was a student at Amherst College and Bamberger attended William College.

Crapo was captured a few minutes after the shooting by witnesses, who said they saw him throw the revolver under a parked automobile and attempt to flee down an alley way.

He refused to make any statement to police as to the cause of the attack, saying it was personal matter between him and Mr. Bamberger.

Poultrymen Urged To Buy at Home

Chicks Shipped for Long Distance Are Harder to Raise

Chicks shipped for long distances lose weight and are difficult to raise, declares G. W. Knox, Jr., Extension poultryman, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture. Several years ago it was thought that chicks should be held for 48 to 72 hours before feeding, but it is now known that chicks should be fed when they are first hatched. Shipping chicks causes them to be held a long time without feed and water. By starting the chicks in this manner they often over eat when they have access to food causing bowel trouble and other disorders. If chicks are bought near home they can be fed earlier, and too, do not lose the weight.

Chicks bought near home are easier to raise, and are usually just as good quality and often better quality than chicks that are bought out of the state, Mr. Knox states.

Love-dance air

"What do you mean, dancing with me at this hour?" Ellen asked indignantly, trying to hide her bare feet.

"I mean I want my rent, and I want it now," he said in a loud voice.

"Come in and stop shouting," she answered shortly. "Have the kindness to wait until I dress."

"I'll have the kindness to do nothing," he barked. "You're mother's put me off with excuses long enough. If you've got the money to buy a parcel of new furniture and a lot of fancy grub, if you've got money to entertain folks who have limousines you've got enough to pay your rent."

"You shall have your money immediately," Ellen announced, wondering as she spoke if there were enough in the apartment to satisfy his claim.

She left him standing by the door. Myra in the bedroom had just succeeded in rousing Molly and Mike.

"There's no are," Ellen said. "It's just Mr. Farnum suddenly troubled at 8 in the morning about his rent. We'll have to pay him immediately."

"He'll wait," declared Molly, relieved and promptly sleepy again. "I talked to him day before yesterday—on Saturday. I explained how hard-up we are. Let me see him. Where's that limousine?"

"I'm afraid it will be useless to see him now," Ellen stopped her. "He's heard about our party last night. I've no doubt he knows every item on the menu."

"That's the trouble with living in a place like this," Myra observed fretfully, pounding her pillow into plumpness. "Everybody talks so."

"We won't be living here long if we can't get the rent together," Mr. Farnum looks in a mood to carry our furniture down to the street personally. Just how much money have we any way?"

"I borrowed $200 on the insurance. There should be lots left. My pocketbook's on the bureau."

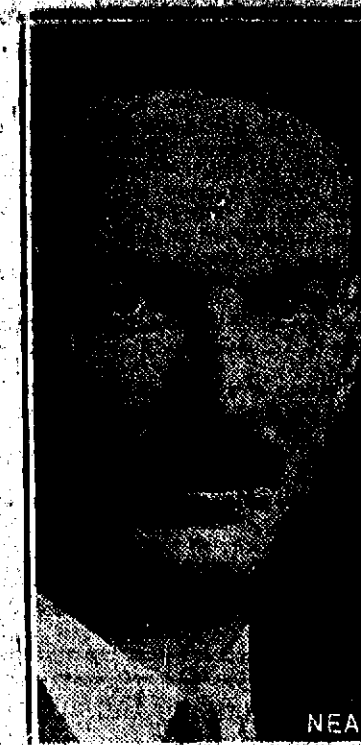

Molly went to sleep again. When the pocketbook was opened it appeared that she had been unduly optimistic. She had managed the day before to do away with over $160. Ellen could not hide her consternation. How were she and Myra to bring the vitally necessary insurance to date again? But the present problem was the rent.

By emptying her pocketbook and Myra's they succeeded in piecing together the $60. It left them exactly $12 for the week's food and carfare.

Ellen saw that it was out of the question for her to resign her position. It would take at least a week to find another. Even the possible $25 from Dreamland Saturday would not be sufficient to tide them over.

Buster Brown and Dog Coming Here

Famous Dog Tige and Master to Appear at Saenger Thursday

Buster Brown, and his dog Tige, central characters in a Sunday colored comic section of the newspapers a generation ago, and now the trademark of a brand of children's shoes, are to appear in the flesh, in Hope Thursday afternoon, at the Saenger theater. Free tickets to see these famous characters are being distributed by Hitt's Brownbilt Shoe Store, according to Henry Hitt, who has brought them to Hope for this occasion.

Buster Brown, a grown but diminutive man, stands about 40 inches tall. In dress and appearance he resembles the famous trade-mark. He is accompanied on all his travels, in the interest of Brownbilt shoes, with his equally famous dog, Tige, a real live dog.

A survey conducted by a Chicago department store reveals that 39 per cent of the husbands help their wives with the dishes. The other 61 per cent must have been prevaricators.

My back and sides gave me a lot of trouble. A friend of mine told me to try Cardui. I took it for several months and I got strong and well."

Strawberry Crop Estimate Heavy

Acres for This Year Is Said to Be 25 Per Cent Greater Than 1931

The preliminary estimate of acreage for the commercial strawberry crop to be picked in 1932 is 25 per cent above the 1931 estimated acreage, states W. G. Atkinson, Extension horticulturist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

The greatest increase, 41 per cent, occurs in the second early crop of status in which 45,410 acres are reported. This is the group in which Arkansas is claimed. Other states competing in this group are North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and Georgia. Arkansas reports the greatest percentage of increase, amounting to about 80 per cent. However, the total acreage to be harvested in Arkansas in 1932 is about equal to that picked in 1930, but is 6,000 acres less than was available in 1928 and 1929.

There has been some acreage increase in the early states which are usually finishing shipments as the Arkansas crop moves, and in the intermediate states where their early crop moves in competition with northwestern Arkansas berries.

Petition Form Arkansas Urges Tariff Upon Oil

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Support for a tariff on oil was asked Tuesday in a petition from Arkansas submitted by Senator Robinson, the democratic leader, for printing in the Congressional Record.

Forest Fires Show Decrease in 1931

Many Thousand Acres in State Protected by Patrolmen

According to reports received from five protection organizations in 1931, Arkansas showed a decrease in forest fires during the calendar year 1931. States Charles A. Tillitt, Extension forester for the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

One thousand and seventy-two thousand acres of forest land is being protected by 315 patrolmen. Their reports show that 51 fires burned 515 acres, causing an estimated damage of $24,15. In 1930, 155 fires burned 6,000 acres causing a loss of $24,155.

The daily record of forest fires in Arkansas shows a decrease in the value of these forest resources. The value of these forest resources is estimated by the County Extension agents in co-operation with the individual timberland owners. Demonstrations in Calhoun, Cross, Drew, Howard, Johnson, Nevada, Perry and Polk counties have a percentage of 100 per cent. No fires occurred on these demonstration areas. Very few fires, however, occurred in the other counties. Only one-half of one per cent of the total area was burned, which is indeed a remarkable record.

A news story says Shanghai lies in about the same latitude as Mobile, Ala., but its climate is more like that of Washington, D. C. If it had Congress' hot air, it probably would be a lot warmer.

LOOKING AMONG SOME YOUNG BRIDES JUST SIMPLY ISN'T DONE

Petition in Bankruptcy Clamped on Police Gazette

NEW YORK.—(AP)—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was clamped Tuesday about the Police Gazette, pink hued journal of the mauve decade.

The first waver in its aging mortal step came February 13 when for the first year in 95 years it omitted its customary weekly issue.

Started in 1845, the Gazette reached its heyday under the ownership of Richard Fox, which began in 1876. Its circulation was 400,000 then.

Sharps and Flats

A Department in Which The Editor of The Star Plays His Own Piano

I had a telephone quarrel Tuesday with A. W. Parke, of Parke-Harper Printing company, Little Rock. Mr. Parke got mad and called me up on long-distance simply because I hadn't mentioned this new secret society called "Why" that is running around Arkansas asking mysterious questions about the state government.

I told Mr. Parke that an anonymous communication had no standing in a newspaper office regardless what information it attempted to convey.

And I was particularly exasperated when Mr. Parke told me that he sponsored the thing himself.

"Why" comes out to hick editors in the shape of a long list of questions about state government, seeking to stir up a ferment of curiosity in hick communities regarding this new and strange society.

Well, I'm no hick editor, this is no hick community, and none of The Star's readers are hicks. My old home town is larger than Memphis; and on the other hand, there are plenty of Arkansas boys who are on top of the heap in New York.

Where does a Little Rock hick get off at, condescending to address anonymous communications to the hinterland not so fortunate as to be a suburb of his precious city?

I hate these people who confuse trolley-cars with civilization and key-hole anonymity with the high office of running a newspaper.

I'll back Hope against Little Rock any old day.

And I'll back my judgment against the judgment of a man who chooses to stir up the people with the blind, barbed shafts of an anonymous and irresponsible publication.

Whatever my newspaper is, or hopes to be, depends on the confidence the people have in its editor.

Mr. Parke asked Arkansas "Why?" But I asked Mr. Parke "Who?" And right then Mr. Parke had to shell down with "Me."

Exiled Prince Brings Future Wife to London

LONDON.—(AP)—Exiled from his family and his home in Sweden, for his love of a commoner, his royal highness Prince Lennart of Sweden Tuesday night brought his timid blonde fiancée to London to make her his wife.

Looking much like a Texas college boy and his co-ed best girl, the happy but abashed pair stepped from a luxurious continental train at Victoria station into the strange city neither had ever seen before to find no one to meet them—except two hotel employees.

Dallas Student Killed as Two Practice Draw
